

THE CANBERRA CARNIVAL AND THE WOMENS EVENTS

Last Updated 17 July 2017

Tim Erickson

The LBG Carnival was first held in 1967. Although the main event was a 20 Mile for men, other events were included and amongst them was a 2 mile for women. The first few editions of the women's event saw small fields but within a few years, the carnival as we now know it had gathered Australia wide support and the 2 Mile walk for women was attracting large fields (in 1971, there were 24 starters). The women's events have for many years now seen the largest fields in the Carnival and the competitive nature of these events remains high.

Right from the start, the 2 Mile for Women included the divisions of Senior, Junior and Sub-Junior. On many occasions, it was one of the younger walkers who won the event overall and this leads to the current situation where the names on the Open Women's Trophy show the first Senior woman to finish. The Open Winners in each case are shown with an * next to the name.

If anyone has further results from the early years, I would appreciate the details to complete this document. Forward to terick@melbpc.org.au
